LOCAL.

Two bituminous meat market signs in a dandy.

Mr. McDonald, of Cook's Peak, was in town yesterday.

Cook's Peak is putting out ore at the rate of about 500 tons per month.

A large Mormon trade has been transacted in Deming during the past week.

T. A. Woods is in charge of the Wells Fargo office during absence of Mr. Brown.

Get ready for duck and rabbits. That hunting party will probably return this evening.

Harry Fleischman returned on Tuesday last from a visit of several weeks to California.

Mr. Alexander F. McDonald, of Colorado-Juarez, Mexico, spent several days in town this week.

Col. Lockhart and Sigmund Lindauer are expected back from Kansas, the latter part of next week.

The railroad says about two thousand dollars changed hands in Silver City on the result of the election.

Constable Frank Mettlinch is interviewing his friends and acquaintances on the subject of poll tax.

The Santa Fe train of Wednesday to this point was seven hours behind time, owing to a snow blockade in Kansas.

Hon. F. P. Clark, collector for this Custom District, was in town from El Paso last Monday, on an official visit.

Geo. S. Bayler, mounted inspector for this district, was presented by his wife with a little daughter the other day.

Lindauer Wormser & Co. received a shipment of 25,000 pounds of Flor de Marzocco ore which ran 75 ounces to the ton.

Don Francisco Vance, of Aztec, brought 34,000 pounds of ore, which ran 88 per cent lead and 99 ounces in silver this week.

Ad. Munkenberger, of the Babinal District, Mexico, brought in 76,000 pounds of ore from the Bismarck mine, which netted $702.

Mr. W. Moore Clayton, the bright and energetic representative of the Bradstreet Company, was in town last Wednesday taking notes.

Gov. Price, in pursuance of the proclamation of the President, has named Thursday, Nov. 27th, as a day of Thanksgiving for New Mexico.

Several burro loads of antelope were on the market yesterday. Numbers of these animals are seen on the plains in the vicinity of town almost daily.

Dr. T. H. Burgess, Druggist, of Albuquerque, passed through Deming Wednesday evening, on his way to Arizona, where he will spend several weeks.

The shipments from Mexico through the Custom House are growing quite large, owing to the development of mines in Mexico, which are rapidly increasing.

Mr. I. Fleischman came in from Los Angeles yesterday morning and passed up to Silver in the afternoon. He is to return to Deming for a short visit to John.

John Burnside informs us that Lindauer, Wormser & Co's freight boat is to be started out about two o'clock to-day, to meet those hunters and help bring in the game.

The W. C. Hadley company—Capital stock $50,000; principal place of business Deming, Lake Valley and Hadley, in Grant county—is a recently chartered corporation.

The new Headlight office is being put in fine condition. When completed it will be the largest and most conveniently arranged printing office in southern New Mexico.

Preparations are being made at the Depot Hotel for a very fine dinner on Thanksgiving day. The Manager, Mr. J. R. Meyers, will present each guest with a handsome souvenir.

Smith & Fleischman will on January 1st move their mercantile establishment into the new vacant store room adjoining Mahoney's hardware store. Their increasing business demands more room.

Another strike is reported in the Grand Central group in Cook's Peak district. The lucky owners Teal and Poe, now have more ore in sight than at any previous time since the discovery of these mines.

Dr. E. Miller Woodson, formerly of Deming, and who was in partnership here with Dr. Strickland, was married, at Olathe, Tenn., last Tuesday evening. The bride was a Miss Eva Brown, and the wedding, which seems to have been a very stylish affair, took place in the Presbyterian church at Olathe.

It is of some significance as showing the importance of our town, that the Santa Fe company has arranged for special trip rates between Deming and points in Utah. This is designed to accommodate the colonists of the growing settlements of Juarez and Diaz, to the south of us.

A large body of ore which is said to run about twenty-five per cent. lead has been struck in the Surprise mine, Cook's Peak District. It is white and runs through the hard like fine shot. Col. Fitzgerald pronounced it of great value. There are thousands of tons in sight, it forming the bottom of an extensive cave.

An average of perhaps sixty souls a week out here at Deming, for emigration to Mexico. Many of these are Mormon colonists who go to Diaz or Juarez, but not a few are independent immigrants. They come from all directions, centering here at Deming, by rail and wagon. So great has been the rush this week that the supply of wagons on sale in town was completely exhausted, and a considerable portion of a carload of "clunks" which luckily arrived, was sold by Lindauer, Wormser & Co., at the depot, before unloading and setting up.

HUI FOR TOPOLABAMPU!

An American colony in the Territory of the United States and Santa Fe Railroad.

The Headlight was taken somewhat by surprise, on Monday last, by the visit of a delegation of its old Kansas neighbors. The welcome reception was, however, soon explained. These gentlemen were a portion of a party passing through via the Southern Pacific & Santa Fe railroads on their way to Topolabampo, Mexico, comprising a colony for permanent settlement there. The party calling comprised Messrs. C. H. Hoffman, Enterprise; Wm. Rose, Wichita; C. J. Lamm, Ketchikan; J. H. Bennett, Ellsworth; James Butler, Enterprise; J. B. Payne, Chihuahua.

There were 175 persons in the colony, comprising a number of families, and filling three sleepers. They were splendidly outfitted, having with them a train of thirteen cars filled with provisions, goods and stock, the latter comprising 120 horses, thirty blooded cows, and a complete grading and ditching outfit. The party consists of men, women and children, comprising people from the states of Nebraska, Iowa, Indiana, Missouri, Texas and Kansas, largely from the latter, and in charge of Mr. C. H. Hoffman.

They are all members of the Credit Foncier Co., a co-operative colony started by Albert K. Owen, of New York. The principles and purposes of the organization are that of a corporation of men who have associated themselves together for practical public purposes of a colony—to dig irrigation ditches, lay out and build cities, erect factories, cultivate lands, and operate the exchanges and distributing agencies of their locality. The motto of the colony is "public utilities to be owned by the public." "The community responsible for the well-being of the individual."

The company does not inquire into the religious opinions of any member, nor does it insist upon any peculiar views or practices in social relations. It is purely secular, and based on business principles. Though not socialistic in its organization, every member is guaranteed the ownership of a home, and the entire profit of his or her labor.

During the afternoon a consultation with Mr. Maillefert, the Mexican consul at this place, was arranged for the evening, which was made the occasion of an impromptu reception to the colony at the parlors of the first National Bank by the people of the town, while waiting for the delay of S. P. train. Addresses were made by Mr. Hoffman, Mr. Rose, Mr. Lamm, and others of the colony, by Mr. Maillefert, on the part of his Government, and by a number of citizens of the town. The members of the colony first learned, here, of the prospect of connection of their future home by rail with Deming, and an identity of interest was at once established which added in a marked degree to the interest of the occasion, on both sides. When the visitors learned that though apparently at a vast distance from all their former associations and interests, they were to be directly connected therewith by forty eight hours' communication by rail—that Deming was to be a half day's point between their new and their old homes—the situation assumed a much more cheerful and pleasing aspect.

This enterprise of peopling with American colonists and the injection of American capital, energy and development, into the region that is to be the terminus of the new road from Deming into Mexico is fraught with very important consequences to this locality. If there were otherwise any doubt, this will fix the terminus of that road, while the development these people will create, will go far to hasten the work of construction. This colonization movement is wide spread throughout the western states, and this party is to be followed by others, in the near future. It is undoubtedly anticipated, and not without reason, that they will in a few years build up a city of very considerable importance, the main channel of communication between which and their former homes will all of necessity be through Deming. Thus, as Topolabampo will be the great entrepot of the trade of the South Pacific countries of western South America, of Australia and the South Pacific Islands, so will Deming become the point of international transshipment of that trade for all north eastern America and Europe, and the collecting and distributing of the great trade of Mexico to the east, north and west that will spring up under the better politico-commercial conditions that are certain to come.

Rev. R. H. J. Thomas, pastor Methodist Church, will preach his first sermon tomorrow.

We regret to announce that Deming is about to lose as residents, Mr. R. B. Washington and his estimable family. Dick has gone into partnership with Ralph Halloran in the insurance business at Albuquerque, and will leave for his new location about the last of the month. We most cordially commend Mr. Washington to the people of Albuquerque as a thoroughly competent business man, and a gentleman of rare social qualities. Our loss is their gain, in this instance.

A hunting party consisting of Charles Jones, B. J. McQuinn, Newt Bolten, Jim Hamilton, Harry Fleischman, Doc Brown, Jack Hodgdon, A. A. Hatch, I. Brown, Ed. Pennington and Harry Hunter, started for Lake Palomas, Mexico, on Tuesday morning. A large tent and other necessary impediments for camping out, had been sent forward on Monday, and the party took along a thoroughly accomplished cook. A friend of ours, who was permitted to look at the list of necessities for the trip, informs us that it runs somewhat as follows:

One ten-gallon keg of whiskey, Some brand, Eleven dozen beer, Shot guns and rifles, Five gallons of whiskey, A gun for the teams, Two bottles of whiskey, Three dozen assorted canned goods, Cans of water and keg of whiskey, Tobacco and cigars, Matches and whiskey, Coffee, sugar and whiskey, More whiskey.

The party may be expected to return to Deming this evening, unless the ill-aid refreshments hold out longer.

The latest from the Palomas hunters is significant. Late last night a messenger arrived with the intelligence that their whistled had run out, and begging that a fresh supply be sent them for the return trip. This will delay them till tomorrow.

OBITUARY.

Ed. Barker—On Saturday last, A. B. Barker, of Deming, received a letter from H. H. Kilder, now a resident of Greytown, New Mexico, conveying the sad intelligence that Ed. Barker, formerly deputy sheriff under Andy, had died at a stroke p. m. of Saturday, October 25th. The particulars of the accident by which the boy had met his death, were given by Mr. Barker. It appears that Ed. was at the Canal Company's landing, superintending in the line of his duty, the discharge of goods, when the fastenings of some timbers used in the handling of the company's freight suddenly gave way, the heavy pieces striking Ed. with full force as they fell. His back and both legs were broken, and the entire body terribly crushed. Mr. Barker was at once sent for, but when he arrived, the physicians refused to allow him to see the injured boy, so terrible was his condition. Subsequently Barker and other trusted friends were admitted, and remained with him until the last. The accident occurred at about 11 o'clock a. m., and death came to relieve the victim's sufferings at five o'clock that evening. The remains were buried on Sunday with full Masonic ceremony, the officers of the company and residents generally attending the funeral. Mr. Barker writes that Ed. Barker was held in the very highest esteem at Greytown, and we add our testimony that he stood equally well here in Grant county. He was a warm-hearted boy, kindly in manner and full of good impulses. Just before his departure for Central America, he was for some time resident of Deming, and while here, made many warm friends. He was a native of Pennsylvania, and about 27 years of age. He had some $1000 in money at Greytown, and was making preparations to take a run north to get married, when he met with the accident which ended his life.

MANUEL P. FOSTER—Among the members of the last Legislative Assembly, none were regarded in more kindly manner by both parties, than Manuel P. Foster of Sierra county. It is with sincere regret that we chronicle his sudden death, which took place at Hermosa, Friday night of last week. He was attacked on Wednesday, but the case was not considered serious until near the last when it developed into acute inflammation of the bowels. Mr. Foster was married at Santa Fe nearly two years ago, having met his bride there during the legislative session. He was a native of New Mexico, and his family had long resided in that state.

Long Journey.

From Silver City to Kansas City the distance via Santa Fe Route is 1197 miles to Chicago 1655 miles, and to St. Louis 1165 miles.

An honest Swede tells his story in plain but unmistakable language for the benefit of the public. "One of my children took a severe cold and got the croup. I gave her a teaspoonful of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and in five minutes later I gave her more. By this time she had to cough up the gathering in her throat. Then she went to sleep and slept good for fifteen minutes. Then she got up and vomited; then she went back to bed and slept good for the remainder of the night. She got the croup the second night and I gave her the same remedy with the same good results. I write this because I thought there might be some one in the same need and not know the true merits of this wonderful medicine." CHARLES A. THOMPSON, Des Moines, Iowa, 35-cent bottles for sale by J.
